

October Lecture DINNER
October 10, 2017 5:30 p.m.
In the Glenn Miller Ballroom at UMC

A Brief Geological History of Colorado:
How Did the Flatirons Form?

Speaker: Lon Abbott PhD

Join us for an evening lecture with Dr. Lon Abbott.
The doors open at 5:30 p.m. at the Glenn Miller Ballroom. There will be a cash bar in addition to dinner.

Dr. Lon Abbott is a Senior Instructor in the CU Geological Sciences Department. In addition to teaching classes and publishing scientific articles, Dr. Abbott strives to contribute to public understanding of and appreciation for geologic processes, the deep history of the planet, and the significance of geology in our everyday lives.

He has published three geology books and over 35 articles intended for a general audience, and he has given dozens of public presentations about Colorado's geology.

Dr. Abbott's research is focused on how mountains are built and sculpted into the beautiful landscapes we enjoy today. His current research foci are deciphering the geologic history of Colorado's Rocky Mountains and the adjacent Colorado Plateau and on understanding when and why Australia's Great Escarpment formed.

His presentation will take us on a journey through Colorado's geologic history from the formation of the state's first continental crust 1700 million years ago right up to today. We will trace the rise and fall of several mountain ranges, watch deserts and seas encroach on the state and then recede, and get to know some of Colorado's early inhabitants. We will pay special attention to the sequence of events that produced the Flatirons, Boulder's glorious backdrop.

President's Message

During this time of membership renewal as we approach our centennial, it seems appropriate to review the changes in eligibility for membership in the Club that have occurred over the last 98 years. Although the Club was founded in 1919, the first constitution was not written until 1924 at which time only faculty wives and female faculty members were eligible.

Remember the original name of the Club was the Faculty Women's Club. Fifteen years later, in 1939, eligibility rules in the constitution were amended to include female librarians as long as they were in that position. The establishment of a Navy Japanese Language School at CU to help with the war effort in 1942 led to heated discussions on the Board about allowing the wives of the Language School faculty to join even though they were eligible. After much debate, they were accepted.

In the fifties, there were many discussions about eligibility for membership, especially concerning the wives of administrative and professional personnel and women who were administrators or professional personnel. Some administrators were accepted by exception. Eventually, in 1960, the wives of men with professional privileges and professional women were considered eligible followed a year later by accepting the wives of adjunct professors.

The 1960s and 1970s were times of unrest and disenchantment with authority and exclusivity, causing the Club to change its name to the University Women's Club and to open admission to the wives of any employees or persons connected with the University and any woman employed by or connected to the University. Boulder residents who had no formal connection to CU were still not eligible, but shortly before the 75th anniversary, in 1993-94, the Club was opened to "the wives of all persons affiliated with the University of Colorado and women faculty, staff administrators, alumni and friends of the University of Colorado." Today membership is open to "women who are friends or members of the University community."

This information is taken from the publication From Year to Year, a monograph created at the time of the 75th anniversary of the UWC and from discussions with Carol Kassooy and Karen Diamond. If you are interested in working on a similar publication for the centennial, please let me know.

Returning to the present day, Carol Etges and co-chair Merry Bullock have been working to revitalize our webpage (boulderuwc.org). I encourage you to visit it and provide them with your thoughts and suggestions. I also want to thank Lynne Barnett for arranging the stimulating lectures that we will have this year.

Wheelchair Options for UMC Lectures

Ambassador Wheelchair Assistance? Volunteers Needed! Service Offered

The UWC is offering to meet those with handicap passes who need assistance to get from the handicapped parking to one of our Lecture Luncheons and back. Please email our general email address: boulderuwc@gmail.com to request such assistance at least 24 hours in advance of the event. Please let us know your name, the date of the Lecture Luncheon, and a cell phone number, and put "Volunteer Ambassador" in the subject line.

In addition, we are in need of volunteers for specific Luncheons who can serve as Wheelchair Ambassadors to meet and transport members attending our luncheons by wheelchair into the building. Please also write to the email address above to volunteer. Please provide your name, the event month and a cell phone number and put "Volunteer Ambassador" in the Subject Line. We also encourage you to carpool or offer carpool assistance to a member who might need it.

Scholarship Co-Chairs' Message

We hope you are as excited about UWC's scholarship activities as we are. It is one of our flagship activities and one of which we can be extremely proud! Please check out the scholarship section on the website, including photos from the Spring Scholarship Luncheon. And now it is easier than ever to contribute to the scholarship fund at any time, day or night, even in your jammies via the new button on the UWC home page. If you just search for "University Women's Club Boulder" you will find our official website that also has all kinds of important information about our activities and interest groups!

We do hope that you will help us get the Scholarship Fund off to a strong start with an initial donation using the new online access on our website. Tuition costs have been increasing steadily and while we can't assume we'll be able to match those increases, our growth in the last two years has been substantial and steady - an $8,000 increase within the last two years! That's one and a half scholarships! Our scholars are so thankful!

If you missed hearing about scholarships at the September Membership Reception, please plan to join us at the Lecture Luncheon on October 10 when we are planning to have one of our winners from last year officially thank the members and explain what it means to her to have your help.

Thanks, as always, for your gracious giving!

Becky Palmer and Merry Bullock Scholarship Co-Chairs

Tell Me More—about Boulder as a Wild Neighbors City

Most of us know that Boulder is a Sister City, partnering with eight cities worldwide with the idea that people worlds apart can form relationships that foster peace and prosperity. But did you know that Boulder is also a Wild Neighbors city?

While I surfed the internet to see what I should do about the raccoon family that has taken up residence under my deck, I discovered that Boulder, along with four other cities, was selected by the Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) for a pilot program for determining the best ways to coexist with our wild neighbors. Boulder was selected because of its reputation for honoring the premise that wild animals have a right to live in our community and deserve respect and protection.

HSUS provides Wild Neighbors cities with professional training for community leaders, animal care and control agencies, and police; educational seminars for the public; and assistance in the implementation of humane management plans. Based on knowledge garnered from the five pilot cities, HSUS will develop a toolkit for other communities and will add twenty more Wild Neighbors cities over the next five years.

When we discover a wild animal in our home or shed, many of us believe the kindest thing is to trap the animal and set it free elsewhere, or block its entrance when the animal is away. Unfortunately, this is not the case. Studies show that in many cases the relocated animal dies in the unfamiliar area, and/or its babies die of starvation when the mother is unable to return to them.

So what should we do? For injured or orphaned wildlife, call Animal Control at 303-441-3333. For information about dealing with small wildlife, contact the Greenwood Rehabilitation Center at 303-545-5849 or Colorado Parks and Wildlife at 303-297-1192.

What will they tell you to do about a skunk in your garage, a squirrel in your chimney, or a baby bird that has fallen from its nest? Find the Humane Wildlife Resolution Conflict Guide here:

https://www.animalsheltering.org/sites/default/files/webform/animal-care-expo-2017-handouts/Wild%20neighbors\_%20Is%20your%20response%20to%20wildlife%20working%20against%20you%2C%20your%20community%20and%20your%20misson\_griffin\_john\_1.pdf

By the way, for the raccoons under my deck, the best choice is wait them out. They tend to change dens from time to time. Or I can harass them to speed up the process. But, you know what? They are not bothering me, so I guess I won't bother them either.

Spring Scholarship Luncheon - April 17, 2018

Circle your calendars on April 17, 2018 for the Annual Spring Scholarship Luncheon to be held at the Boulder Country Club. This is a great opportunity to celebrate the 2018 scholarship winners and to hear personal accounts of their heart-warming journeys through challenges to achievements.

We'll also enjoy a delicious lunch as we converse with old and new friends. The culmination of this popular event is a fashion show presented by a local retailer. Be sure to watch future UWC MESSAGES for more detailed information regarding this much anticipated event.

Opera Brunch - March 18, 2018

The Demon Barber of Fleet Street pays a visit to CU Boulder for the first time ever. Save the date March 18, 2018, for the Opera Brunch and opera.

Stephen Sondheim's wildly popular opera/musical Sweeney Todd transports audiences to Victorian London, where a long-exiled haircutter and a struggling baker conspire for revenge ... and delicious meat pies.

This story of obsession comes to us from urban legend via the Victorian popular fiction known as "penny dreadfuls".

Reservation forms and more information will be available in forthcoming MESSAGES. Contact: Kathryn Terrill (303-530-9438).

UWC Nominations for 2017-18

This year's Nominating Committee is chaired by Carrol Kalafus and consists of Carroll, Janet Evans, Arlene Gerwin, Lois Linsky, and Virginia Stringi. The committee's task is to select nominees for President-elect, Secretary-elect, and Treasurer-elect for the program year 2018-19.

If you would like to be considered for one of these positions, or would like to suggest someone for one of the positions, please contact Carrol (carrol.kalafus@colorado.edu) or a member of her committee, by the end of September.

By directive of the UWC Constitution, the UWC Executive Board consists of the president, the president-elect, secretary, secretary-elect, treasurer, treasurer-elect, the chairs of each of the UWC committees, and the outgoing president. The "elect" positions move into the position proper the year after they were voted into the elect position.

UWC Website

In case you have not yet "visited," you may want to become familiar with the University Women's Club website. It is boulderuwc.org

Past issues of MESSAGES can be found there, plus details about our interest groups, registration forms, a form to nominate a Margaret Willard Award recipient, details of our 2017-18 Lecture Luncheons, a list of our current UWC Board members, and many fine photos of our members in action!

Also, under "Registration Forms & More" you will find the booklet made for our 75th Anniversary called "From year to year." (Be patient after clicking on it as it takes a minute to appear.) The booklet is a 44-page document full of interesting history of the club from 1919 to 1994.

Interest Groups Forming

There are three new interest groups forming. The Book Group—Classics is a new group, introduced last Spring. The Travel Group and the Biking—Fair Weather groups were developed at the Membership Coffee/Tea on September 12. They need five members to become a bonafide interest group.

Book Group - Classics

This is a book group that will focus on reading the classics that you've always wanted to read but have put off reading in favor of current best sellers. Books like Gulliver's Travels and Moll Flanders have stood the test of time and deserve another look.

If this type of literature intrigues you, please contact Beth Rauch (etrauch@comcast.net) to express your interest.

Travel Group

This would be a group of women who enjoy travel and would like to organize trips with other UWC women. Several have already expressed interest in such a group that would potentially book cruises, enjoy resort vacations or even join a tour to various locations. It is never as much fun to travel alone, and it would be more enjoyable to share travel experiences with someone you know.

If you are interested in the possibility of sharing future travel with a friend from UWC, please contact Elaine Leass (kayakeb@gmail.com), Arlene Gerwin (303-494-1307) or Beth Karpf (bethk@alum.mit.edu).

Biking —Fair Weather

Since the current Bicycling Groups are active from May through October, Lauren Charbonneau has expressed interest in forming a Fair Weather Biking Group that would meet during the warm weather days that we usually enjoy during the winter months. This group would only function during the winter months during 'fair weather' until the May start-up of our ongoing bicycling groups. If you are interested in joining Lauren in this start-up group, please contact her at Laurenviolin26@gmail.com.
