

Koenig Alumni Center on the corner of Broadway and University in Boulder

Please join us for the Honors Reception

Tuesday, May 14 at 3 to 5 p.m.
At the Koenig Alumni Center
1202 University Avenue, Boulder

This is the first time in three years that our final event of the year will be held at this historic building. It will take place after graduation, so the campus will be quiet and serene as we come together to honor our Margaret Willard Award winner, Karen Diamond. We will also thank the members of our group who have made our club so much fun.

The chairs of our 27 different interest groups will be thanked and recognized for their hard work this year.

We will also say good bye to this year's executive board, plus there will be a few surprise mentions!

An EVITE will be coming in your email. Please RSVP when you receive the invitation. If you don't receive one-please email Mary Huffman at marymhuffman@gmail.com.

Don't miss this party-it is our last chance to be together until next fall.

Oh, it includes beverages (including wine) and hors d'oeuvres...

This event is fun and relaxing event that is free of charge to all members. Please RSVP quickly as capacity is limited at Koenig.

Margaret Willard Award Winner

Karen Diamond

It is with great pleasure that we announce Karen Diamond as the 2019 winner of the University Women's Club Margaret Willard Award. Karen typifies all the attributes we look for in a woman receiving this prestigious award. In every organization and community function in which Karen has participated, she has contributed significantly to their growth and development with her volunteerism, her leadership, and her gracious good will.

We at The University Women's Club have been honored to have Karen as a Past President and a Board Member for multiple years. She has held several Board positions from Membership, Program, Historian/Archivist, Honors Reception, and the Scholarship Committee. She also has been active in our UWC group events and interest groups and chaired the On The Road group. Her skills and knowledge have made her a go-to for many questions concerning the Club.

Karen's kindness and generosity also have been evident in her community activism. She volunteers at both Bridge House Community Table and Historic Boulder. Additionally, she is quite active in all aspects of her synagogue's work where she has chaired their "Scrip" program for 25 years and makes deliveries whenever needed to elderly and immobile congregants. When the 2013 flood left the synagogue badly damaged, Karen played a major role in its reconstruction and refurbishing using her interior design skills. Additionally, she has served on the Board of Hadassah, an International organization of Jewish women, for over 30 years. Her love for music has drawn her to be active in the Chautauqua Music Festival and she supports the Boulder Philharmonic and many College of Music programs as well.

In 2010, the University of Colorado benefitted from Karen's volunteer work as a consultant designer during the renovation Grusin Hall. Throughout her husband's 21 year tenure as dean of the School of Pharmacy, she graciously opened her home to host well over a hundred School of Pharmacy dinners and events for donors, alums, university officers, regents, faculty members and students.

CU's Conference on World Affairs also benefitted from Karen's activism for over two decades, housing conference participants, and serving on the Housing Committee.

Karen has done all this while running an interior design business and raising two wonderful sons, who have now added five grandchildren to her list of duties.

We are happy and grateful to have Karen as a member of our community; she is a very deserving winner of this award. She is a gracious and caring person whose exemplary involvement in our Club and in university and community endeavors have done so much good for all of us.

Be sure to come to our Honors Reception on May 14 to help our Club honor Karen.

President's Message

May this May be Unbelievably Exceptional, Amazingly Colorful and Filled with Joy, Laughter and Love.

Anonymous

Well, as the old saying goes, April showers (and snow!) did bring us May flowers. My daffodils are in full bloom and the irises are not too far behind. I am thankful that the deer do not feast on these two varieties of flowers.

May also brings the UWC year to a close. Looking back at the year, I am sure you agree that the Lecture Events were among the best we have ever had! Attendance at these events broke records. We are so fortunate in Boulder to have access to such amazing talented speakers from the University as well as from our community.

Another shout-out and sincere thanks to Lynne Barnett and Joanna Cain for their exceptional planning of the Lecture Events. They are now busy planning the Lecture Events for next year. Stay tuned for more information in the Fall.

The Scholarship Luncheon was held on April 16 at the lovely Boulder Country Club. We were so moved by the stories of our deserving UWC scholarship winners. And we are so grateful to our UWC members who make these scholarships possible through generous donations. Thank you to Merry Bullock and the Scholarship Committee for selecting these fine CU students who receive UWC scholarships. And another big thank you to Janet Brewer and her Scholarship Luncheon Committee for our special day at the Boulder Country Club.

To wrap up the year, our final membership event is the Honors Reception on Tuesday May 14. There is no charge for this event but pre-registration is required. This is one of the free events included in your membership dues. You should soon receive an evite on-line invitation. I encourage you to RSVP promptly to ensure a spot at the event. We are returning to the Koenig Alumni Center after extensive renovation of the building. It is such an impressive venue and we are so fortunate to be able to host UWC members there. I hope you will join us to honor Karen Diamond, our Margaret Willard awardee this year. We also will recognize other UWC members who have made this and previous years so successful and meaningful for the UWC.

The Honors Reception also marks the official "passing of the gavel" to my successor, Merry Bullock. We will jointly preside over the annual Tri-Board meeting on May 7. This is an opportunity for the in-coming and out-going boards to meet and discuss their board positions and plan for next year.

Serving as your UWC President this year was a most enjoyable and very rewarding experience. I wish to thank all the board members and those who coordinate our interest groups for an amazing year. And also I thank all the UWC members who attended our Lecture Events, participated in our interest groups and generously donated to the scholarship fund.

Have a wonderful summer and I look forward to seeing you at UWC events next year.

Arlene Gerwin, 2018-2019 President

Scholarship Chair's Message

2019 UWC Scholarship Recipients

UWC's flagship activity – giving scholarships to non-traditional students was begun 27 years ago in 1982 to support to non-traditional CU undergraduate students in their educational journey. We do this collectively because we know the power of education, and we recognize the importance of access and support.

Our recipients have come to CU to pursue their dream of completing their education. They are older than the typical undergraduate, they are strong students, and they give back to the community. Over the years, UWC has provided more than $275,000 in scholarships to over 125 students.

This year, your generous contributions allowed the scholarship committee to select 6 outstanding individuals from 46 applicants. Strong thanks to the members of the scholarship committee - Lauren Charbonneau, Sydney Hoerler, Boyce Sher, and Sherry Woodruff who reviewed 46 applications, and selected this year's participants, and wrote the short bios about the recipients. And strong thanks to all of you, the women of UWC whose consistent generosity makes all of this possible.

Read about our wonderful winners on the following pages.

UWC Scholarship Recipients 2019

Janeena Blackman

Janeena Blackman's resourcefulness has made the difference in her life and in the lives of her family. When her mother was disabled, at age 10, she asked herself who is going to cook a meal for the nine children in her home. How will the laundry get done? Who will take care of her mother? She answered all these questions by doing it herself. She makes things happen for herself working eighty hours a week every summer. A Dean's List student, a junior at CU, and majoring in Psychology with plans for a Masters and PhD. She is drawn to Forensic Psychology and Industrial Organizational Psychology. She is drawn to helping people live up to their potential and to giving back.

Allie Carpenter

Alexis (Allie) Carpenter left the familiarity of West Virginia, where she was briefly married, and attended community college, to find new opportunities and challenges. While passing through Colorado on an exploratory trip westward, she set her sights on CU Boulder. She moved here, found a job as an assistant in a veterinary hospital, and began her studies last summer discovering an interest in human psychology and animal behavior that she hopes to combine into a satisfying and meaningful career. Allie continues to work 40 hours a week at the vet clinic, and takes 15 hours of credit toward her degree, which means intense class days on two days of the week and long shifts at the clinic on the others. When her schedule allows, Allie volunteers at the Boulder Food Pantry. She is most appreciative of the UWC scholarship because it will enable her to reduce her reliance on student loans to pay for tuition.

Jace Haehnlein

Jace Haehnlein reminds us of how education saves lives. Not only did it transform his life from drug addict to a 3.75 student at CU Boulder, but it inspired Jace to choose a career to help transform other lives for many years to come.

When other teenagers were enjoying high school, Jace, at 14, was fighting a battle with methamphetamines that led him to run away from home at 15 and come close to ending up in prison. When he faced the judge who would determine his fate, Jace reached deep into his heart to declare his intent for a better life. He entered a residential treatment facility for three years, then moved to the Community College of Denver where he was a top student and received the Presidential Service Award for work with Psi Beta Honor Society and the community. Jace plans to work in the Peace Corps and get a masters in Social Work. He knows what it takes to help heal others who have been hurt and is himself a shining example of how there is always hope if you are open to seeing and seizing it.

Rajesh Rajchal

Rajesh Rajchal immigrated to the USA from Nepal, and embarked on a long journey to complete an education. His goal is to manage natural resources scientifically, contribute to a healthier quality of life for all, and continue his life-long passion for nature. Rajesh's journey has not been smooth – he has battled cancer in his young son (now recovered) and in himself, and struggled with his extended family to recover from a devastating earthquake in his home country of Nepal that destroyed his parents' home. Throughout these struggles, Rajesh maintained his passion for learning and motivation to excel at his studies. He will be the first in his family to earn a college degree. As he notes, acknowledgement of his progress through a UWC scholarship is a strong motivator to excel in his academic journey.

Ruby Rendon

Ruby Rendon is a fighter, a mother, wife, and strong student. She relied on persistence, hard work, determination and a positive attitude to begin her educational journey, and now applies that same strength to complete her education, care for her family, and nourish a son diagnosed as an infant with autism. “My son defines who I am, he is my story” said Ruby, as she proudly described his integration into kindergarten, delight in playing sports, and outreach to new friends. Ruby, who is getting a degree in speech therapy, hopes to continue to graduate work in speech and audiology. An ardent advocate for kids and others with learning challenges, she works in the CU disabilities office, and volunteers to help those with disabilities have access to educational materials and opportunities. Ruby is gentle and forceful – as a first-generation student, from a distressed childhood, now with a family and its significant challenges, she exudes a spirited optimism that, with determination and education, promises can be kept.

Sheena Skinner

Sheena Skinner believes that climate change is the biggest issue our world currently faces. She left a lucrative job in order to pursue a career in which she would be a part of the solution. At CU Boulder she is a geology major with an emphasis on environmental geology. Her volunteer work includes being a tutor for geology students and networking with researchers to bring seminars to faculty and students. She has participated in many service projects, but singles out Denver GIVES for the joy it brings to underprivileged children. She works as a Teaching Assistant for a Harvard University online class that enables over 200 students to learn geology. Sheena will be the first from her family to earn a college degree. After graduation her goal is to continue on to graduate school to do research on carbon capture, storage and sequestration in sedimentary formations. She hopes to join the community of scientists who will eventually solve our climate problems.

NOTICE: There was a change in the King Soopers Gift Reward Card Program. Please read on to enroll in the NEW and IMPROVED program!

King Soopers donations to UWC are now made directly from loyalty cards! 5% of all purchases will be contributed to UWC directly through your LOYALTY card, and you don't have to do anything except enroll and then use your loyalty number when shopping!

If you already enrolled in the gift card program and have a balance on your gift card, you can use it to pay for purchases until your balance is used up.

How to Enroll

You need to link your King Soopers LOYALTY card to our UWC account.

NOTE the number under the barcode on the back. It needs to be one that starts with a "4". If you have an old card, which does not have a number beginning with a 4, you will need to get a new loyalty card. It can be linked to your current card (if you are counting on the fuel points from the old card). Then be sure your account has the new loyalty card number.

What you need to do:

The requirement for using your loyalty cards is twofold:

1. You will need to create an online account with King Soopers;
2. You will need to register your LOYALTY card online with King Soopers so that it is linked to our UWC account.

How to do it: PLEASE NOTE: You must have an Email to proceed

UWC Centennial Celebration 2019-2020

Next season the University Women's Club will celebrate the 100th year of its existence.

We have just begun to organize a Gala Celebration, which you will hear more about in the Fall.

Meanwhile, if you have a 2020 calendar, SAVE THE DATE for the Gala, Friday night, May 15, 2020 in the Glenn Miller Ballroom at the UMC.

A Centennial History Book Committee has spent 2 years gathering information from the archive files, and from long-time members. We anticipate producing a fun and informative book, similar to the 75th anniversary book which is on our website (click here to see that book).

The committee is hoping to include some ads in the centennial book to offset the cost of production and to allow some color pages. We can use EVERYONE'S help to accomplish this. At the last committee meeting a list of possible donors was started. We need members to help solicit - not hard to do!

If you have a connection to any of the businesses listed below, or know someone in charge, please inform Caryl Kassoy (cfkassoy@colorado.edu). She will get back to you as to whether that business has already been "assigned" to someone. If not, we will send you a brief form (see below) printed on heavy stock, to use to approach the potential donor.

UWC
University Women's Club

Advertise in UWC's Centennial Celebration Book!

The University Women's Club (UWC) is publishing a Centennial Celebration Book to commemorate its first one hundred years. The book will chronicle UWC's history and illustrate how changes at the University of Colorado Boulder, and in society more generally have profoundly affected the Club and its activities.

We plan to print about 500 copies, which will be distributed to UWC members, CU leaders, and others in the Boulder community. Your ad will promote your enterprise!

Opportunities:

- 1/4 Page Ad: $200
B/W copy to promote your business / organization. Content should not be time-dependent (the shelf life of the book will be long!)
- 1/8 page Ad: $100
B/W business-card sized

Ads will be listed on the book's "sponsor" pages.

CONTACT: Caryl Kassoy (cfkassoy@colorado.edu) to place an ad

The ads should be "timeless" (no upcoming shows or "specials"). We are suggesting 2 sizes: 1/4 page for $200 or 1/8 page (could be just business card or a name of a sponsor) for $100. All will be printed in black & white.

Do you know anyone at

- a hotel (Boulderado, St. Julien, Millennium, Basecamp Boulder, ANY),
- an automobile company (Audi, Toyota, Subaru, other),
- an eyeglass company, hearing aid company, Boulder Community Health, or any health organization,
- investment companies, banks
- real estate companies
- Celestial Seasonings
- clothing stores
- Liquor Mart
- McGuckins
- Mike's Camera

PLEASE step up and help us with this important project. Be a part of our centennial by participating.

Opera Brunch March 17, 2019

On Sunday, March 17, a group of UWC members and guests enjoyed a delicious brunch in the Aspen Room at the University Memorial Center, followed by an afternoon in Macky to see “Eugene Onegin”, an opera by Tchaikovsky based on a novel in verse written by Alexander Pushkin.

Maestro Nicholas Carthy spoke at the brunch and offered insights into the performance.
