

Don't Miss Our Fabulous.....

Spring Scholarship Luncheon

Tuesday, April 15, 2014

Boulder Country Club

RSVP by Tuesday, April 8. See Flyer Page 4

We will be awarding scholarships to nontraditional University of Colorado students and it would be wonderful if you gave a little extra toward our scholarship fund. Changes in Latitude Travel Store will provide clothes and narration for ten University Women's Club members as they walk and twirl among the Boulder Country Club luncheon tables.

Our theme this year is Hitch a Ride on a Butterfly which represents many aspects of our April event: spring, travel, and service. We have our spring event to promote friendship among members. Our members are great travelers and our fashion show should be lots of fun as we watch our friends travel the world in very wearable clothes. When we award scholarships to nontraditional students, we are providing service to the university and to the Boulder community.

Come at 11 a.m. for cash bar cocktails and mingling. At 11:30 a.m. a salad of baby mixed greens will be served. The entrees this year are BBQ chicken with herbed bistro wedges and a mixed vegetable medley or Eggplant Napoleon. Dessert is a delicious Mixed Berry Eton Mess.

Mail your reservation form and check to Virginia Stringi by April 8!

Did you know that our very own Ellen Gille was involved in the Butterfly Effect discovery? The meteorologist Edward N. Lorenz had the insight that a small change in initial conditions can have a dramatic effect on later events, or as he titled a 1972 paper "Predictability: Does the Flap of a Butterfly's Wings in Brazil Set off a Tornado in Texas?" In the early 1960's, Ellen Gille worked for Lorenz as a computer programmer and entered the same data over several times and got different results. From this computer modeling, chaos theory was developed. So...why not donate to our scholarship fund and because of the nature of chaos, maybe you will change the lives of our scholarship winners.

President's Message

Greetings UWC Members!

I hope everyone is enjoying our extra hour of sunlight and the promise of spring. Our Board has been having some lively discussions about a myriad of subjects. One in particular is the change concerning our Membership Booklet going electronic. This has led to a lot of questions and discussions concerning the safety of information in the digital age.

If you have never done so, go to Google and put your name and the town you live in into the search field. For example: Mary Huffman + Boulder, CO. It will surprise you what pops up or what doesn't. I am a fairly public person, so a lot comes up about me and my profession.

What was surprising to me was when I was in Illinois visiting my parents last week, I Googled my 93-year-old father. I was astonished by the information that came up: his address, his age, and historical information about his life. This made me realize that privacy really is a thing of the past!

When my children signed up for Facebook accounts, I warned them about posting certain types of content. It is interesting to note that potential employers will look at Facebook profiles to learn more about potential employees, and also to check up on current employees.

Note: Don't call in sick and post on Facebook that you went skiing. I even had a co-worker tell me that after she posted her departure to Mexico on Facebook, her insurance broker called her up and chewed her out. Why announce to the world that your house will be empty for 10 days?

So how do we stay safe when we are using computers? With all the talk about identity theft, a few precautions are warranted:

1. Delete all suspicious emails without opening them. Be especially careful when opening attachments to emails.
2. Beware of "Phishing" scams that begin as legitimate looking emails asking you to provide your password or other confidential information either in a response to the email or into a website. If you are unsure, always call the company sending the emails using telephone numbers they have previously provided to verify any requests for information.
3. Do not send confidential information via email. This typically is not secure unless you know it is encrypted when sent over the Internet.
4. Check to be sure that commercial websites you visit utilize secure transmission measures (usually Secure Sockets Layer or SSL), typically indicated by a key or padlock icon along the lower section of your screen, or the address starts with <https://>. This is likely the case with financial institutions and major online retailers. Always check to make sure.
5. Always log out of websites that require an ID and password instead of just exiting or continuing to browse other sites. This ensures that your confidential information is properly deleted from both the vendors system and your PC.

Computers are here to stay, so use a few precautions, and stay safe out there!

Best,
Mary Huffman
UWC President

Birder Interest Group Forming

I am an experienced Birder for the past 20+ years and I am looking to start a Birder Interest Group. Hopefully we will start in April if we have enough interest.

We welcome all levels of Birders from beginner to experienced. We will focus on mostly going out and simply looking for and identifying birds. Our plan is to start in April when spring birding really begins. I suggest once weekly outings to different local areas with emphasis on "birdy" spots where interesting species are usually spotted.

Included will be a brief education on Birder Basics taken from the previous president of Boulder Bird Club. Also, more experienced Birders can help beginners with bird ID. If there is interest, we can plan out-of-state Birding trips to sites such as Nebraska to see Sandhill Cranes or to Texas for migratory birding.

If you are interest in joining the new Birder Interest Group please contact:

Margaret Willard Award and Honors Reception

Margaret Willard began her career at CU as an English Instructor, wife of a history professor, and became the first president of the Faculty Wives' Club that has evolved into a more encompassing group, our University Women's Club. Though the original group liked to chat and sip tea, they grew in involvement in philanthropic matters. According to Sylvia Pettem, a Boulder local historian, these included providing eye-glasses and books to needy students, milk funds for schools, implementing student loans, and more.

The social aspects of their lives turned more and more to helping others as the world progressed through the Great Depression and World War II. By 1957, they added fund raising and expanded the philanthropic work by providing financial scholarships for women, nontraditional females, who would not otherwise have been able to continue their education.

We continue this tradition and recently have included men for scholarship consideration. Now UWC has grown to include interest and service groups and accepts all women whether they have a CU association or not.

Since 1993, in May, at the Honors Reception, we present the Margaret Willard Award to a woman or women who have exemplified the traits of our predecessors, and in doing so honor all women. Past recipients have included Becky Roser, Patricia Limerick, Val Havlick, Carlen Penfold, Ruth M. Wright, Claudine Garby, and Ceal Barry. All our honorees are exemplary role models who demonstrate initiative in their endeavors and in doing so, bring honor to all women.

Plan to attend the Honors Reception on May 13 at the Koenig Alumni Center.

See the invitation on the following page.

Save the Date- Saturday October 18- 4 to 7 p.m.
