Value of a college education: Priceless

How do we pay for the cost of a college education? State support for students at CU continues to decrease. Colorado now ranks 48th of the states in funding per full time state resident student. Ten years ago, the state's funding was nearly $7000 per student; now it is less than $3000, dropping by 60% since July 2009. As a percentage of the total state budget, funds for higher education have dropped from approximately 21% twenty years ago to 6.4% today.

Tuition increased by 9% this year, the maximum allowed by state law, but with state funding cuts, the university has had to make drastic cuts in its budget and seek additional revenue sources. The federal stimulation dollars that have shored up government support will dry up at the end of fiscal year 2011. Traditionally, CU has been able to invest a larger portion of its tuition revenue than is required toward financial aid. This year budgetary constraints may reduce this investment to the absolute minimum allowed. Yet CU regretfully states that the demand for financial aid – which includes scholarships, grants and work-study money – outpaces the university's supply.

The Higher Education Strategic Planning Steering Committee has proposed funding options to raise revenues for higher education. These include increasing income and sales taxes, implementation of surcharges on natural-resource extraction and imposition of mill levies. All these proposals require voter approval which may be difficult to obtain during these troubled financial times, despite the strong public interest of having a well educated population and the concomitant need to provide financial aid to students who are academically able, but financially needy.

As the university and the state work to come up with long-term sustainable financial solutions, I am proud to be part of an organization which contributes to mitigating the difficulties of financing a college education, one student at a time. As we know from the responses we receive from the admirable recipients of our UWC scholarships, our contribution makes a difference to their lives and their futures.

We are approaching the end of this tax year. Now would be a perfect time to make a contribution to our scholarship fund. What better way to say Merry Christmas, or Happy Chanukah, or Happy Holidays to a student that you'll be happy to meet next April at our Scholarship Luncheon.

I wish Merry Christmas, or Happy Chanukah, or Happy Holidays to all of you and your families and look forward to writing to you again in the new year.

Notes On Wisdom, Hope And Healing

Carrie Host

Tuesday, December 14, 2010, 11:30 a.m.
University Memorial Center, Room 235
(Reservations and payment due December 7)

Author Carrie Host's unquenchable sense of humor in the midst of suffering creates poignant moments of laughter through tears. Bracing, lyrical, and deeply moving, Between Me and the River is a tribute to one life, and all lives rerouted by illness. Ms. Host's inspirational talk reveals the wisdom of acceptance and the underpinnings of hope.

Her book, a memoir, has received critical acclaim for the author's ability to "write about her illness with the nuance grace of a poet whose perspective extends beyond her own experience. The author weaves creative metaphor into her harsh reality, striking a balance between hardship and revelation."

Drawing from her experience with a rare and deadly form of cancer, Ms. Host's lecture will describe her approach to healing, growth, and liberation. Her message is painful, practical and above all inspirational. Primarily it will describe a blueprint for living that was found by one woman and embraced by many others including cancer victims and those who love them.

Carrie Host lives in Boulder, Colorado with her husband and three children. She serves on the Board of Directors at the Caring for Carcinoid Foundation. Since Between Me and the River was released, Carrie has made numerous radio and television appearances and is a frequent speaker and keynote speaker at events around the United States.

February

To Shangri-La & Back: A Historian's Perspective of Tibet

William Wei

Tuesday, February 8, 2011, 11:30 a.m.
University Memorial Center, Room 235
(Reservations and payment due February 1)

Drawing from highlights of his recent journey to Tibet, Professor William Wei's lecture will discuss the current geo-political climate of this controversial region of China. Among the topics that he will cover are: Western (mis)perceptions of Tibet, the history of Tibet's relationship to and inclusion in the Chinese empire, China's colonial policies and practices, and the corrosive effect of tourism in Tibet. At the end of his talk, Professor Wei will consider Tibet's future prospects.

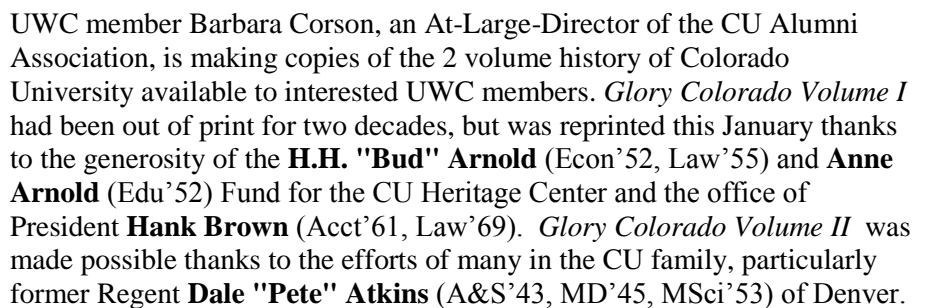

A Professor of History at CU, Dr. Wei's primary research interests center on modern China, especially the themes of revolution and counterrevolution. His secondary ones are on Asian America, focusing on Chinese Americans in the context of the overseas Chinese Diaspora. Reflecting these intellectual interests are his major works: Counterrevolution in China: The Nationalists in Jiangxi during the Soviet Period (University of Michigan Press, 1985) and The Asian American Movement (Temple University Press, 1993).

He has held a Rockefeller Fellowship, Mellon Fellowship, and Fulbright-Hays Fellowship. In the summer of 1997, he worked as a journalist covering the historic handover of Hong Kong to China. He has participated in the Semester at Sea program, serving on the faculty in summer 2003 and as Academic Dean in summer 2006.

The award, named after the first president of the Women's Club, is presented annually to a woman who has enhanced the quality of life for women in Boulder and/or on the CU Boulder campus, is an exceptional role model, and has brought honor to all women through her accomplishments. Nominations are invited from UWC members, faculty, staff, students, and alumni of CU. Nominees may be connected to the University of Colorado in some way or be members of the Boulder community.

Generous Offer from Barbara Corson of UWC and the CU Alumni Association

Get to Know Some of Our New Members!

Pat Hagerty

Pat has lived in Boulder for 37 years and lived previously in California. She was a professor in teacher education at the University of Northern Colorado and UC Denver. Pat enjoys hiking, skiing, mountain climbing, and studying Spanish.

Mollie Morton

Mollie is a CU and University of Denver College of Law graduate. She has lived in Boulder 36 years. Mollie was a labor relations specialist in Human Resources at CU for 32 years and is now retired. She is active in the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Boulder Garden Club. Mollie enjoys traveling, gardening, knitting, and scholarship projects with the DAR.

Kathy Campbell

Kathy has moved 48 times in her 63 years. She and her husband moved to the Boulder area in October 2009 after retiring from the University of Oregon, where they were both on the faculty in the School of Journalism and Communication. She is active in UWC Bridge and play-reading groups and is currently Vice-President for Special Events for the Boulder Newcomers Club.

Arlene Gerwin

Arlene has lived in Boulder eight years, having moved here from Chappaqua, New York. She is President of Boulder Insights LLC, a marketing consulting firm, and an adjunct marketing professor who has taught graduate level courses at CU and NYU. Arlene is an avid skier and hiker and is working on improving her biking skills.

Jeannie Hamilton

Jeannie has lived in Boulder since 1969. She is a CU graduate in Anthropology and has worked as a flight attendant for Western Airlines and for 8 years at the Wardenburg Health Center before becoming a Realtor in 1998. After 10 years with the ERA, Jeannie opened her own real estate brokerage, Hamilton Properties. She is an active member of Boulder Rotary, a 2-term director of the Boulder Area Realtor Association and a member of the Boulder Mountain Fire Protection District Auxiliary. She participates in the UWC biking group.

Annie Russell

Annie moved to Boulder from Ohio 15 years ago and has loved Boulder ever since. She works part-time as an Activity Director for the Carillon of Boulder Creek, a new retirement community in Boulder. Annie loves to create collages and altered books, and offers a yearly altered book workshop. She lives in Silver Sage, a senior co-housing community and is very active in the national co-housing movement.

Claire Marie Martin

Claire uses her middle name of Marie to distinguish herself from her mother, Claire Martin, also listed in the UWC Directory, who is a long-time UWC member. Claire recently moved to Boulder after living in Bangkok, Thailand for a year. She lived in Vacaville, CA while her daughter attended UC Davis and previous to that lived in Alaska for 22 years. She is a special education teacher and taught in Bush Alaska her first 7 years there. Claire enjoys hiking, contra dancing, reading and travel. She is presently taking a bridge class and learning some cooking skills.

Shirley Jin

Shirley lived in Harbour Beach, FL for 38 years, moving to Boulder in 2008 after visiting her daughters here for a number of years. She has two master's degrees, one in physics and one in architecture, and had a variety of work experiences in Florida. Shirley enjoys hiking, biking and the natural beauty of Boulder.

Carol Dunnack

Carol arrived in Boulder via Los Angeles and Fort Lauderdale. She enjoyed teaching mathematics and language arts for 40 years, 26 of them in BVSD. Carol recently retired and loves to read, write, research, hike, garden, and study genealogy. She is looking forward to UWC activities and furthering friendships.

Spotlight on ... On the Road Again

On the Road Again is on the road to success. This new group, which was launched in October with a trip to the Museum of Western Art, has merged with the overlapping group Art and Antiques to be fully inclusive of any excursions its members want to plan. Karen Diamond has agreed to be the official chair of the group, but all participants are encouraged to suggest and plan activities, taking the role of leader for that activity.

Mary Headley organized a trip to the Denver Botanical Gardens in early November, "Moore by Moonlight," which was part of the free Denver Night at the Museums. We enjoyed the lovely Moore sculptures in the garden at night, along with a dance performance by 3rd Law Dance/Theater. In this multimedia interactive "installation", the movement of the dancers was complemented by video of the garden in different seasons, and investigated themes and motifs drawn from Henry Moore's ideas on art. (See photos.)

Dance Performance by 3rd Law Dance/Theater

Jeanne Naunberg is organizing a trip on Wednesday, December 8 to the Longmont Museum. We'll view an exhibit of Nikolas Muray's photographs of Frida Kahlo. Those who want to stay will have lunch at Pinocchio's at 210 Ken Pratt Blvd in Longmont.

Nikolas Muray and Frida Kahlo were at the height of an on-again, off-again ten-year love affair when he began photographing her using the Carbro technique. Their affair had started in 1931, after Muray was divorced from his second wife and shortly after Kahlo's marriage to Mexican muralist painter Diego Rivera. The photographic exhibit at the Longmont Museum is part of a national tour containing forty-six photographic prints reproduced from the original negatives.

If you would like to join us "On the Road Again", please contact Karen Diamond (303-939-8656; karen.diamond@mac.com). If you'd like to come along on the Longmont Museum visit, please contact Jeanne Nauenberg (303-499-2073; jeanne.nauenberg@colorado.edu). We'd love to see you!

Fundraising Event To Benefit The UWC Scholarship Fund

Host: Karen Diamond

Place: 712 Spruce Street, Boulder
303-939-8656; karen.diamond@mac.com

Times: Tuesday, November 30
1:00 to 7:00 p.m.

~And~ Wednesday, December 1
11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Diana Jacobs, an artist in Los Angeles with a jewelry line called "Dustmuffin" has offered to bring a trunk show of her handmade jewelry items, including earrings, necklaces, eyeglass caddies, bracelets and pins, to Boulder. The materials include vintage beads, semi-precious gems, glass and crystal, sterling silver, gold plate and gold-filled findings. Diana is offering UWC members and their guests a 25% discount on any purchases and, even better, she will donate 25% of her total sales to the UWC Scholarship Fund. The prices begin at modestly priced pieces under $30.

Karen Diamond has agreed to serve as hostess for this opportunity and will open her home for two days for the show and sale, and will serve refreshments as well. Please mark your calendars for November 30 and December 1 - perfect days for holiday shopping. A link to the web site where you can do some window-shopping is: www.thedustmuffin.com. Come, and bring a friend, and window-shop at the show. There will be no obligation to purchase.

University Women's Club Opera Brunch

University Women's Club Opera Brunch

Mark your calendar for Sunday, March 13 at 11:00 a.m. to enjoy a delicious brunch followed by the opera, Susannah. Carlisle Floyd's opera is described as an 'apocryphal tale' that pits Susannah's beauty and the attention she evokes against the jealousy and societal/religious expectations of a small Tennessee town in the 1950s. Susannah is filled with 'lush, tuneful Appalachian music' that is certain to haunt and enrich the afternoon.

The brunch will be held at 11:00 a.m. in the new Center for Community on the CU campus, and the opera will be performed in Macky Auditorium at 2:00 p.m.

54th Annual Spring Scholarship Luncheon
at Boulder Country Club

April 12, 2011 @ 11:00 a.m.

Fashion Show by Coldwater Creek, 29th Street Mall, Boulder

Save the Date!

The Scholarship Luncheon Committee members enjoyed a preview fashion show presented by Coldwater Creek at their store on 29th Street Mall, Boulder. We met with Cynthia Howard, our CC fashion show contact, and other store personnel. We're looking forward to spring and the spring fashions of 2011.

Thank you Coldwater Creek...we appreciated your hospitality; we did a little shopping, too!

Bridge: The first Wednesday bridge group is playing with 2 tables and will continue with their present regular and substitute members. The first Thursday bridge group is playing with 3 tables, will continue with their present regular members and would like new substitute players. A new group, which will meet on the fourth Tuesday, will start in January. A current study group has formed and an advanced study group will be formed. Kay Dayem (303-834-0984; kdayem@colorado.edu) or Val Havlick (303-494-0664; havlickv@colorado.edu).

Current Events: The Current Events Group will not meet in December. The next meeting will be January 12 at 1:30 p.m. at the Senior Center on Arapahoe. We will discuss Higher Education. Call Barbara Turner (303-417-9778, golferb7@aol.com) for information.

French Conversation: Currently this group is full. If interested in forming a new group, contact Interest Group Chair Jill Grubb (614-440-5585; jillgrubb44@yahoo.com).

Gardening: We hibernate over the winter, so there will be no meetings in December, January and February. We will have our next meeting at on Wednesday, March 2, just in time for spring gardening. Please contact Jyotsna Raj at jyotsna.raj@colorado.edu / 303-447-8831 or Virginia Donegan at ginnydon22@yahoo.com / 303-635-6685 for more information.

Hiking: This year-round group meets on Fridays at 9 a.m. September–May. During the summer, between Memorial Day–Labor Day, the hiking group meets at 8:30 a.m. Most hikes are of moderate difficulty and end just before noon. Hiking places vary depending on the weather and preferences of the members. Currently we are meeting at the east end of the lower level of Macy's parking garage off 30th St., however, meeting places may also vary. Contact Nurit Wolf (303-443-7958; nwolf@colorado.edu) or Heidi Lynch (303-499-5779; hslynch@comcast.net).

Investment Group: We meet once a month on the second Wednesday of the month at 9 a.m. at a member's home. After a business meeting, we report on the stocks we follow, discuss these stocks, and report on any new stock we have studied. Please contact Mareike Ludkewycz (720-890-5802; mareike1875@yahoo.com) for more information.

Italian Conversation: The group meets each Wednesday from 1:30-2:30 p.m. at the YMCA, 2850 Mapleton Ave., Boulder. For further information, please call Maxene Wilson (303-530-4619, maxene@earthlink.net).

Music: This social group is open to performers and those who love to listen to music. Our next meeting is Monday, November 9 at 7:30 p.m. For more information, please contact Judy Owens (303-494-0196; owensj4@mac.com) or Julia Luerman (303-938-8084; jluerman@comcast.net).

Needlecraft: Needlecraft Group will meet Thursday, January 13 at 1:30 p.m. Contact Judy Wakeland (303-485-7350; judypaints@gmail.com) or Ginnie Ross (303-442-6014; vross921@q.com) for location and details.

On the Road Again: New Link! Arts and Antiques has merged with this group. Participants plan activities and contact group members. On December 8, the group will see a Frida Kahlo photo exhibit at Longmont Museum and then have lunch. If interested contact Jeanne Nauenberg (303 499 2073; jeanne.nauenberg@colorado.edu). For general information, contact Karen Diamond (303-939-8656; karen.diamond@mac.com).

Out to Lunch: We take a break in December because of the holiday season. We meet in the new year on Wednesday, January 26 at noon at Ted's Montana Grill, 1701 Pearl St. This is a western-themed restaurant chain begun by Ted Turner and new in Boulder. RSVP to Virginia Donegan (303-635-6685; ginnydon22@yahoo.com).

Reader's Theater 1: We meet monthly on the last Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in members' homes. Currently the group is reading plays suggested by the members of the group. Currently the membership is full; to be placed on a waiting list, please call Ruth Warkentin (720-890-0272; rjwark@indra.com).

Saving MESSAGES

computer tips & tricks

This series offers a simple computer tip or trick each month.

MESSAGES can be long, sometimes 10 pages or more! Not everyone has time to read it the minute they receive it. So let's cover how to save your newsletter on your computer to read at a later time.

To save your newsletter, use the "Save As" command and tell it what "file name" to store your work under.

To start, click on "File", then click on "Save As". In the "Save As" dialog box, you can tell the computer where to put your file and what to call it. Many computers put your files in "My Documents" or you can create your own folder to put the newsletters in, like a folder on your Desktop called "MESSAGES".

Then you have to tell the computer what "file name" to call your file. You should name your file according to what is in it (for example, "UWC Messages Nov 2010"). When you name your file, on computers with Microsoft Windows, there are also some computer requirements:

1. Use letters and/or numbers.
2. Your file names can contain some punctuation, but some of the punctuation characters have special meanings to the computer, and cannot be used. Your file names can contain apostrophes, dashes, underscores, commas, and spaces, but it is much easier to avoid all punctuation if possible.

If this tip didn't help you, or if this doesn't make sense, we offer technical help, one-on-one. Contact GeorgiAnne Campbell (303-499-2798; campbellgeorgie@yahoo.com) or Carol Etges (720-207-3980; 5etges@comcast.net) for assistance.

Thank You to the following who donated to the UWC Scholarship Fund

(From October 11 — November 10)

Each month, MESSAGES will thank our members for donations to the Scholarship Fund that have been received since the previous list was published as noted at the top of the list. If you have made a donation during the noted dates but your name does not appear, please contact Beth Rauch.
