

MWA Recipient Val Havlick

One of the criteria for the Margaret Willard Award is to be an exceptional role model for women. The winner of this year's Margaret Willard Award, Val Havlick, is a role model for all of us. Val is a hands-on volunteer who has donated many hours to the Boulder and university communities.

She volunteers for Flatirons Habitat for Humanity in jobs ranging from building houses to coordinating the grocery card program. She mentors families starting gardens, cleans up median strips in Boulder and helps coordinate the Boulder City Community Clean-Up. She has volunteered in New Orleans to help victims of Katrina and has traveled to Guatemala to build stoves in Mayan homes. Val has served as president, historian and chair of the Nominating Committee for the University Women's Club.

Be sure to attend the Honors Reception on May 15, beginning at 3:00 at the Koenig Alumni Center, to hear more about Val's contributions to our community.

Making History Come Alive!

If you are interested in history, Boulder County Parks and Open Space has volunteer opportunities for you. These two opportunities can bring history to life for you.

Volunteers at the Walker Ranch Homestead dress in clothing styles of the late 1800s and demonstrate daily chores of a working western ranch including cooking on a wood-burning stove, churning butter, making roof shingles, practicing roping skills, and doing laundry the old fashioned way with a scrub board, wringer & tub.

For those whose schedules allow, there are also opportunities to help with special presentations for school groups that visit the ranch on field trips.

Training is required to volunteer at Walker Ranch and is scheduled for Thursday, May 3 from 6-9 p.m. and Saturday, May 5th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Training will include topics on local history, lifestyles of the 1880s, historical ranch activities, and interpretive techniques. Later trainings will be offered.

So, grab a friend and sign up for this great volunteer opportunity! Application deadline is April 25. (Children must be at least 9 years old to participate.)

A second volunteer opportunity is at Longmont's Agricultural Heritage Center where volunteers teach visitors about agricultural life on the Front Range between 1900 and 1925.

Tours at the farm include two historic barns, multiple granaries, a silo, garage, a working blacksmith shop, interactive exhibits and a 1909 farmhouse decorated with furnishings from the period. Farm animals are also a part of the interpretive Training for both includes topics on local history, lifestyles of the 1880s, historical ranch activities, and interpretive techniques.

Training occurs regularly to get a volunteer application, call Sheryl Kippen, Cultural History Program Coordinator at 303-776-8848 or email skippen@bouldercounty.org. Her office is located at the Agricultural Heritage Center, 8348 Ute Hwy 66, Longmont, CO 80503, 303-776-8848. Summer office hours, Sunday - Thursday 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

UWC member Mollie Morton volunteers at the Walker Ranch, dressing up in 1800s dress to demonstrate butter churning and washing laundry. The extensive training manual details the history of Boulder County and its early residents and itself is wonderful to have. Other one-time opportunities for volunteering and visiting area historical sites are available throughout the year.

Additional Member Benefits

There are additional benefits for UWC members: 1) an email account through CU, which provides a CU email address; and 2) a CU guest BuffOne card, which provides patron privileges at Norlin Library.

A library card may also be obtained without getting an email address or BuffOne card. To take advantage of the email account, you must first contract with an Internet Service Provider. CU no longer provides free dial-up service. If interested in these benefits, please contact Kathleen Salzberg (303-499-3128; kathleen.salzberg@colorado.edu).
