Dr. Lon Abbott is a Senior Instructor in the CU Geological Sciences Department. In addition to teaching classes and publishing scientific articles, Dr. Abbott strives to contribute to public understanding of and appreciation for geologic processes, the deep history of the planet, and the significance of geology in our everyday lives.

He has published three geology books and over 35 articles intended for a general audience and he's given dozens of public presentations about Colorado's geology.

Dr. Abbott's research is focused on how mountains are built and sculpted into the beautiful landscapes we enjoy today. His current research foci are deciphering the geologic history of Colorado's Rocky Mountains and the adjacent Colorado Plateau and on understanding when and why Australia's Great Escarpment formed.

His presentation will take us on a journey through Colorado's geologic history from the formation of the state's first continental crust 1700 million years ago right up to today. We'll trace the rise and fall of several mountain ranges, watch deserts and seas encroach on the state and then recede, and get to know some of Colorado's early inhabitants. We'll pay special attention to the sequence of events that produced the Flatirons, Boulder's glorious backdrop.

See Lecture Registration form on page 13.

President's Message

Greetings and welcome to another year of fun and enlightening University Women's Club activities. In this issue of Messages you will find information about the upcoming Membership Tea, Lecture Luncheons and Dinner, Opera Brunch, and Interest Groups. I hope you will be pleased and will attend as many events as you can. Please note the change in this year's schedule. There are NO UWC EVENTS in DECEMBER. There is a Lecture Luncheon in January.

The University Women's Club is almost 100 years old. It grew out of a Faculty Women's Club at the University of Colorado, which had its first meeting on December 12, 1919, at the Norlin home. Geroge Norlin was the fifth president of CU, and his wife hosted the meeting. At first membership was limited to faculty wives and female faculty members. Today the UWC is open to any woman who is a member or friend of the University.

Many aspects of the Club have changed over the years and some were documented in a monograph published on the 75th anniversary. Although the centennial is two years away, the UWC needs to start planning for the event. In particular, if we want to publish a centennial monograph, work should begin this year to allow sufficient time to collect information. If you are interested in being part of a group researching the last twenty-five years of the Club's activities, please let me know. It should be fun to learn more about the UWC and how it has changed. I can be contacted at holleyf@msudenver.edu or 303-499-3733.

The UWC has undertaken a number of service projects over the years starting with a milk fund for school children. Today our primary service activity is providing scholarships to nontraditional students. In recognition of its importance, the Board has voted to increase dues to $35, of which $5 will automatically go towards the Scholarship Fund. That will not be enough, however, to provide the support to students that we would like to provide, and I encourage you to continue to give as generously as you can and have in the past to the fund.

*Donations

Appreciated!*

Scholarship Co-Chair's Message

Welcome to all our new members and welcome back to all of you who have been members in the past! We are so looking forward to continuing our long-held tradition of providing scholarships to deserving students at CU! Within the past three years we have realized that while the cost of tuition had soared, the size of the scholarships we were giving had not. However, our 350 members heeded the call to help our students and we have seen really significant increases in the amounts our members have donated each year since.

So many members have indicated that they feel very good about being a part of this effort to help our students complete their educations. We keep hearing from our members that they like being a part of a truly worthwhile group effort of this kind. "Shoulder to shoulder" as the song goes, we have pushed our scholarship funding upward quite significantly. We hope that you will help us jump start our efforts this year as you come with your checkbook to our first gathering on September 12 prepared to pay your dues and add a significant donation to the scholarship fund as you do so.

Joining me as Co-Chair of the Scholarship Committee this year is Merry Bullock who recently retired from her position as Senior Director in the Office of International Affairs at the American Psychological Association. She is excited to contribute to our efforts and to promote the value and impact of UWC scholarships to the UWC Board and members.

We wish you a fantastic year as a member of UWC! We hope that you find the lectures informative and stimulating, the friendships warm and lasting, and the experience of sharing with our students gratifying and fulfilling.

Becky Palmer, Scholarship Co-Chair

If anyone knows of a member who would appreciate a card, note or any personal contact due to illness, death or other reasons of support, please inform Mollie Morton, 303-494-5486 or mollie.morton@colorado.edu.

Membership Dues

$35 annual dues are due by October 15. That is the cutoff deadline to be included in this year's electronic directory. Please send your dues in early so that we can include you. Checks made out to UWC can be sent to P.O. Box 18844, Attn. UWC Membership, Boulder CO 80308-1844.

We encourage you to consider including your scholarship fund donation and increase your check amount accordingly. Dues can also be paid at the Membership Coffee on Tuesday, September 12 at 2:00 p.m. at the Aspen Room in UMC. If you have questions regarding your UWC Membership please email Karen Neff, UWC Membership Chair at uwcmembershipchair@gmail.com. Please see the Membership Form on page 12.

Margaret Willard Award

Margaret Willard was the first president of the Faculty Wives' Club, which became our University Women's Club. Each year we present the Margaret Willard Award to someone who exercises initiative in her endeavors and in doing so brings honor to all women and to our University. Please submit a nomination (form on page 14) by March 1, 2018. Please contact Patty with questions.

Tell Me More—about Anna Boyd

Anna Boyd was a UWC Scholarship winner in 2013-14. At that time, she had already demonstrated that she was a young woman with a mission. Her goal was to help other young women as they struggled with emotional issues and worked on recovery from traumatic experiences. Her work with teenage girls as a field guide for a wilderness therapy program, guiding students through the outdoors and towards their therapeutic outcomes, spurred Anna on to pursue her education in Psychology and Women and Gender Studies at CU Boulder. As she honed her skills in conflict resolution and communication, her focus shifted towards how to help people in a proactive, rather than a reactive, manner.

Since her graduation in 2015 Anna has continued to work toward her goal through employment, further education, community involvement and entrepreneurial enterprise. She is currently finishing up a Masters of Professional Studies in the Psychology of Leadership at Work from Penn State. She is employed as a leadership development consultant for Fortune 500 organizations through Action Learning Associates. She is an adjunct instructor at Colorado Mountain College, and has her own consulting business, Empowered Solutions Colorado, LLC. Her focus is helping women and girls reach leadership positions.

Empowered Solutions provides personal and business solutions to help individuals become more empowered participants in their own lives. It specializes in working with women and marginalized populations. Empowered Solutions provides team building workshops, conflict resolution, and programs for women's leadership, including tips on how to project confidence and to increase self-awareness. She addresses how hardship creates resilience. See more details about Anna's business here: empowered-solutionsco.org

Anna was recently selected to serve as a board member for the non-profit organization ElevateHER, based in Buena Vista, CO. ElevateHER brings outdoor adventure to girls who might generally not have access to it due to financial constraints. Through outdoor adventure, this program teaches leadership skills and provides the girls with various ways to cope with today's stressful society, including yoga and meditation. See more about this organization here: Elevateherco.org

Anna appreciates the UWC Scholarship she received. As well as reducing her student loan burden, she felt it empowered her to continue on a path focusing on helping other women. She says, "I think it is vital for women to pick each other up and not tear each other down. Thanks for everything you do!"

UWC can be proud of helping this enterprising young woman accomplish her commendable dreams.

Interest Groups in Action

Book Group—Afternoon. (Taken last Spring.)

A large group assembled for “On The Road Again” when they visited the Botanic Gardens in June 2017 for the Alexander Calder (1898-1976) exhibit which will be there until September 24, 2017. Calder was one of the most influential sculptors of the 20th century. There are nine of his works in the exhibit. Below are some of the ladies who went on the tour with docents, and a few of the works they saw.

Community Group Interest

Occasionally the UWC receives a request for some help from our members. If the event relates to the University of Colorado in Boulder, volunteerism, or a community interest event that is non-profit, we have sometimes mentioned it in MESSAGES.

We recently received a request from the Boulder Public Library for an exciting event coming there on SEPTEMBER 15-17, 2017. The following is a message from Kate Kelsch who is the contact for the ZEE Jaipur Literature Festival in Boulder. If you cannot volunteer, you may at least want to attend.

We in Boulder have an exciting literature festival coming up at the Boulder Public Library called the ZEE Jaipur Literature Festival (JLF). It is a free literature festival that includes more than 70 distinguished contemporary authors and speakers from around the world. Authors will present panel discussions, conversations, presentations and performances surrounding various topics of world interest.

To support this event we need over 100 volunteers.

Join our volunteer team to support an incredible festival of literature and authors from across the world.

What is the ZEE Jaipur Literature Festival?

Rich with words and ideas, ZEE JLF Boulder invites participants to join together in examining the depth and breadth of the human experience through the reflections and imaginations of more than 70 distinguished contemporary authors and speakers from around the world. Authors will present panel discussions, conversations, presentations and performances surrounding various topics of world interest. In these critical times, the penetrating, intercultural dialogue exchanged at this Festival of ideas speaks deeply to individuals and gives rise to the joy of community.

What role do volunteers play at the festival?

As a ZEE JLF Boulder volunteer, you will be an integral part of making these conversations happen. Volunteers are needed to help make sure our authors are well taken care of and arrive at their venues on time. Volunteers ensure that all of the Festival grounds are inviting, well maintained and ready for action. Volunteers will handle registration and information tables, oversee book-signing opportunities, assist press and media representatives, and provide support to Festival organizers in a host of other ways. A detailed list of volunteer tasks and shift times can be found at

<http://jlfboulder.volunteerlocal.com/volunteer/>

Have questions? Contact Kate Kelsch at kelschk@boulderlibrary.org or 303-441-3114.

Thank you for considering playing a role in making this festival of ideas come to life in Boulder!
