University Women's Club

September 1993

the University of Colorado at Boulder

Notes From the President:

As the 75th President of the University Women's Club of the University of Colorado at Boulder, I welcome you to the start of an exciting year. The UWC was founded in 1919. The primary goals of the club were to promote friendship among the members, strengthen their bonds of common interest, and by working together advance the interests of the University of Colorado.

Today, 75 years later, we have the same goals, but we have also expanded them to include 24 interest groups, 10 service projects which support activities on and off campus and a scholarship fund which helps support women returning to UCB. Also we have a newly instituted Honor's Award program to honor women who have, in an extraordinary way, helped to enhance the lives of CU Women on the Boulder campus. Finally, we are forming a project to help support the Cottage #1 renovation on campus.

We have a very dedicated and talented Board this year and combined with the support from our general membership, plans are already off to a good start. The yearbook should be ready for sale in November. There will be plenty of dancing, good food and surprises at our 75th Anniversary Ball. This year's Fashion Show will emphasize the fashions of the decades starting with the 1920's and moving right into contemporary styles. Our January Music Program will once again be presented by students of the School of Music, and the Lecture/Luncheon Series will round off the year by highlighting some of the interests of our members that are outside of the UWC.

This is the year of involvement.

This is the year of sharing your interests and talents with our group.

This is the year of growth for the University Women's Club.

This is our 75th Anniversary year.

YEARBOOK REPORT

Work is progressing on the 75th Anniversary Yearbook. Through the summer we have collected information and photographs that will interest and perhaps surprise you. For example: do you know which "first lady" of the university achieved press notoriety for removing her shoes while receiving guests at one of our annual Christmas parties?

The yearbook will be available at the Anniversary Ball in November. Don't miss your opportunity to read all about the UWC.

Notes from the President:

The Fall Membership Luncheon was enjoyed by over 125 women. The University Women's Club is off to a grand start in its 75th Anniversary year. I would like to especially thank Karen Diamond for chairing the September Program, Mary Heath for her lovely music and the many members who helped to make the day complete.

As you look ahead this year do get involved with our Interest Groups and Service Projects listed here in the Messages. The first Lecture/Luncheon will be October 12, with Marilee Dunn presenting a research project she has recently completed which combines her interests in architecture and churches. And save the date, November 20, 1993, for our 75th Anniversary Ball.

Following are comments I made during the Fall Membership Program. I would like to repeat them for those members unable to attend the affair.

Recently I had the opportunity to meet our longest standing member, Helen Carpenter. She recalled to me that when she first joined the club over 60 years ago, as a young college graduate, the women were "stuffy and boring and wore white gloves and hats." I said I didn't mind the gloves and hats, but that we certainly are not stuffy and boring.

Our members share with us their talents, energies, and experience gained from various family, career, and volunteer backgrounds. This year will focus on these individual achievements and will celebrate the dedication of our University Women's Club members.

Service Projects

Many thanks are due to the wonderful UWC members (33 in all!!) who volunteered to find books, bake cookies, help produce a cook book, promote the renovation of Cottage #1, tape various reading services for the visually and physically impaired, screen kids' vision and hearing, answer phones at Wardenburg, help to start a new museum (!!!), and host foreign students. You're a generous and thoughtful group!

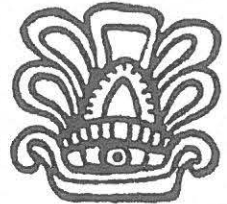

If any other UWC members who didn't know about these rewarding opportunities would like to help, we still could use more volunteers, especially in the areas of helping on occasion to host a foreign student, and baking cookies for "Meals on Wheels", please call Claudine Garby, Chair of UWC Projects, at 499-4062. Some person in need "out there" will be most grateful!

November

The 75th Anniversary Yearbook will be presented at the Anniversary Ball on November 20th. The cost of the book is $8.00. This amount will cover the cost of printing the book if we can sell 300 copies. Current membership of the UWC is about 250, so someone will have to buy more than one copy!!! Let it be you.

The Yearbook is full of history, pictures, and some stories covering the years since our club was founded in 1918. Find out which current member of the UWC appeared on stage in a Chautauqua show at age five.

Lecture Luncheon Speakers

"Sacred Places"

Marilee Dunn

October 12, 1993

We were particularly excited to start off this years Lecture/Luncheon Series with a past president of UWC. We were honored and privileged to have Marilee speak to us about her favorite topic, "Sacred Places".

From 1982 through 1985 Marilee attended Harvard Divinity School where she received a Masters of Theology. While at Harvard, she developed an interest in architecture and explored world religions and sacred architecture.

In 1986 Marilee and her husband, John, moved to Boulder where Marilee became an active member of UWC, pursued her love of painting by enrolling in several classes in the CU Art Dept., and started a desk top publishing business.

Marilee has traveled extensively, studying the architecture and sacred places of Japan, France, Taiwan, the Netherlands and just recently Malasia, Bali and Singapore.

As some of you may know, Marilee has applied her wonderful talents and energy to a scholarly study of Boulder's historic churches and her research and photographs have been printed in a brochure for Historic Boulder.

Notes From the President:

By the time this newsletter reaches you, I'm sure you will have heard about "the ball" we all had at our 75th Anniversary Ball. I would like to thank everyone who helped out with this extravaganza. Marilee Dunn, Chairwoman, did an exceptional job of organizing this event starting from last year when she purchased the Hot Pink star wreaths for decorations. Gertie Phelps designed and constructed the vintage car used for our anniversary photographs, and Marilyn Peltzer took reservations and arranged the table seatings. But, of course, none of this was possible without the support of many other members, so to all of you, again, I say THANK YOU!

As we look ahead to the new year, one of the pleasures of the UWC is our music program in January. Once again Edith Dell'Apa has arranged to have Professor Dennis Jackson and the CU Lyric Theatre students entertain us. We will as usual have refreshments following the performance. We will also plan to contribute to a scholarship program to benefit the CU music students. Mark your calendar now for January 28th, 1994.

Our Lecture/Luncheons have had an enthusiastic response from both our members and very special speakers. Julie Johnson will be our next speaker on February 8th, 1994. Her topic will be Grand Gulch: Anasazi Basketmakers. We expect this to be another sold out event, so make your reservations early as indicated under program notes.

This is certainly a busy time of year for all of us. I wish everyone a Happy Holiday Season!

Rhoda Nozik
President 1993-1994

Third Annual Music Program

Our Third Annual Music Program will continue its reputable quality entertainment when students who have won scholarships in the College of Music perform for us on Friday evening, January 28, 1994, beginning at 7:30 PM in the Music Theatre. Among these talented young vocalists is one whom Director Dennis Jackson of the Lyric Theatre Program calls their "star soprano", and she comes to C.U. from Russia.

The evening's accompanist is Professor Robert Spillman, recently appointed Music Director/Conductor of the Lyric Theatre Program. Professor Spillman has a long career in the opera field that includes professional companies as well as university programs. He has been involved with the opera program at the Aspen Institute for several years.

The Lyric Theatre students presented "The Ballad of Baby Doe" in October at Macky Auditorium. Spring productions will include "The Marriage of Figaro", "Trouble in Tahiti", and "La Revoltosa", and we will hear selections from all of these on January 28th. Again, admission is free, and the Music Theatre is offered to us without charge. Karen Diamond is in charge of refreshments this year and will be asking for volunteers to help with this.

The generosity of our club and other friends of the Lyric Theatre Program has enabled the College of Music to attract and provide scholarship assistance to students. We will continue to support the program financially this year, but would ask that we also show our support by planning to attend our January event.

Lecture/Luncheon Series
Anasazi Basketmaker: Reverse Archaeology
February 8th, Tuesday

On Tuesday, February 8th, Julia Johnson will present a two projector slide show entitled Anasazi Basketmakers: Reverse Archaeology. "Julie", as we know her, is a new member and editor of Messages this year. You might think from the title of her program that she is an archaeologist, but her background is far removed from digging into the past.

A transplant from Wisconsin, where at the age of eighteen she earned a private pilot's license, Julie has been a resident of Boulder for 45 years. She earned a Master's Degree from the Communications Disorder Department at CU after she had travelled abroad, owned a business called "Party Planners", spent a couple years as a private secretary, was Principal and taught seventh and eighth grades in the "old Dillon" (before Lake Dillon), was a ski patroller at Arapaho Basin, married and became a mother to one child, a son, Brad who is a well-known Colorado mountaineer. Before graduation she was secretary to Bob Beattie, Olympics commentator and then CU Ski Team Coach. She had her own private practice as a Speech Pathologist and continued to travel around the world with her husband testing outdoor equipment developed by their business known as Frostline Kits. During that time she learned to fly a float plane and therefore also holds a seaplane license. Julie has climbed many high peaks in North and South America, Africa, Europe, Japan, and New Zealand. Besides all this she enjoys biking, hiking, skiing, rollerblading, racket ball, golf and tennis. In more recent years, while hiking in canyons of the southwest, she became involved in an unusual research project called the Wetherill-Grand Gulch Research Project.

This program will tell you how she and two other Boulder women, Ann Hayes, and Ann Phillips, became part of a small research team determined to reconstruct history which took place a hundred years ago. Their endeavor involved a canyon in southeastern Utah called Grand Gulch. This 54 mile long canyon empties into the San Juan River and was home to the largest community of Anasazi Basketmaker Indians anywhere in the southwest between 700 and 1300 A.D. They hoped to discover collections which had been removed from the canyon during the late 1800s by about twelve expeditions, most notably several expeditions by the same men who discovered Mesa Verde, the Wetherill brothers from Mancos, Colorado.

After four years they located collections, reconnected them to their original burial site, gathered written information concerning the expeditions and photographed collections in two national museums. In May 1990 they concluded their work with a symposium, the largest of its kind attended by 500 professional and amateur archaeologists. They were presented the highest award given by the Department of the Interior to volunteers contributing to the conservation and management of natural and cultural resources of the United States.

RAZZMATAZZ - 75 Years of Fashion in Boulder

CU women have witnessed a lot of fashion ins and outs since our club's founding in 1919, but interestingly enough most of the fashion modes of these decades have been cyclical.

Those attending our fabulous spring fashion show and luncheon on April 19th might be surprised at how many of the clothes of the past seven decades loaned to us by the Boulder Historical Society are strikingly reflected in the brand new 90's fashions that our models will also be wearing from Boulder stores - Design Celebration, Max, and Dolan's.

This fashion parade through the decades will be the culmination of our year-long 75th anniversary party. We're pulling out all the stops to make it a grand event. Circle your calendars, tell all your friends and start planning for the fun we'll have seeing all the wonderful ways that women and men have looked in Boulder during the past 75 years!

Lillian C. Kennedy
1780 Lombardy Drive
Boulder, CO 80304
303-541-9506

On Tuesday, March 8th, Lillian Kennedy will take a blank 30" X 40" canvas and proceed with some vigor to demonstrate her painting process.

Lillian has a masters degree in painting from Parsons School of Design where she attended on a Helena Rubenstein scholarship. Before moving to Boulder four years ago, she developed a reputation in NYC for her large scale commissioned paintings some of which are at the Sunset Park Courthouse, the Tavern on the Green, DuMont Plaza, and the Bronx Zoo. Although she loved the visual blast experienced from motoring up and down a mural on a scaffold while feeling engulfed by a painted image, she has since turned her attention to moderate sized paintings of landscapes and gardens.

Lillian was born in Vermont and raised in a small isolated town there. From her earliest years she felt a strong connection with the landscape, and by the time that she finished high school this had begun to grow into an obsession to use the landscape as a catalyst for the expression in paint of her feeling about life.

In her paintings, Lillian strives to balance a charged emotionalism with a quiet serenity; synthesizing these and other disparate qualities into a somewhat unified mode of expression remains an ongoing process. Her paint strokes function not only to describe nature but also as energetic and unpredictable visual events which create pattern and energy. She aims to create a glowing, tingling surface that coalesces into a grand rhythmic whole when the viewer steps back. Change is an integral part of the process, and the painting becomes a record of the dance of the brush in the moment of perception. She reworks her paintings by balancing and adjusting until she gets that special resonance that comes from the mirroring of inner sensations manifested visually. Sometimes this takes a few hours and at other times it happens over a period of years.

Throughout most of her career, Lillian has taught art. Most recently she taught Art Appreciation at CU in Denver. She hopes that this demonstration will give UWC members information that will be useful in their viewing of art and in their own creative endeavors.

She promises not to splash paint around.

MUSIC PROGRAM UPDATE

The old adage, "The show must go on!", can easily be applied to our Music Evening, Friday, January 28th, when the program's director, Dr. Dennis Jackson, filled in, and a talented piano student served as accompanist, replacing Dr. Robert Spillman.

Two of the seven College of Music scholarship winners scheduled to appear had laryngitis, and Dr. Spillman had been called away, so many of us were able, for the first time, to hear the talented Dr. Jackson, director of the Lyric Theatre Program, sing a solo, and he also joined in a duet with one of his students, both selections from "The Merry Widow". To the delight of the 100 or so audience, we were even treated to a waltz during the duet number.

Professor Jackson gave an overview of the spring productions of the College and excerpts from these were sung by the remaining five students, including a male tenor from Egypt and a female soprano from Russia, who sang arias from "The Marriage of Figaro".

Our thanks to President Rhoda Nozik who designed the invitations, to Nanwei Su, Mailing Chair, to Karen Diamond, in charge of refreshments, to Rosemary McBride and Telephone Tree members, and to all who baked for the event. Leftover cookies were donated to the Meals on Wheels Program via Special Projects Chair Claudine Garby.

The UWC Executive Board voted to give $300 to the Lyric Theatre Scholarship Fund at its February meeting. The tradition of a Music Evening continues in 1995, when Dr. Jackson will direct our fourth annual program, tentatively set for Friday evening, January 27th.

RAZZMATAZZ - 75 Years of Fashion in Boulder

"Always wear gloves."
Emily Post, 1945

We all have more clothes in our closets than we need for keeping our bodies covered and yet we are always purchasing new clothes. Why? Because we're the pawns of manufacturers and magazine editors? No - not entirely! The clothes we choose to wear are a mirror of what we are and who we wish to be at any moment in time. From the bewildering array of new styles that are offered to us for our consideration each year, a few seem to express our collective ideas and emotions - and we buy them.

A quick mental inventory of the fashions we've worn since the 1919 founding of the University Women's Club might cause us to conclude that we've gone through some pretty dramatic mood swings in our 75 years. But a closer look might show us that a few basic expressions have been reiterated in the same few modes, and our favorite look from 20 years ago may be riding high again! We're going to pause this year to take that closer look.

Fortunately for us all, the Boulder History Museum has been holding onto the most beautiful, the most interesting, the most outlandish, the most expressive fashions of our various moods in Boulder. With the Museum's help, on April 19th, we will have a chance to look at the way we were, AND - with the help of Boulder stores, Dolan's, MAX, and Boutique deLorimier at the way we are in the 90's. Our 37th Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon, "Razzmatazz - 75 years of Fashion in Boulder", will benefit our very important program of scholarships for women. Some of our favorite men and women from the campus and town will be coming down the runway in the wonderful looks of the 20's through the 80's and 1994. Live music and dance from all the decades will provide the background for this trip down memory lane!

It's a party, it's a show, it's our biggest anniversary celebration. Our friends at the UMC are planning a wonderful luncheon menu. Invitations will be in the mail before the end of March. Gather your friends and relatives - women and men - and make sure that your reservation is received by April 12th.

Wistful, jubilant, hilarious, celebratory are just some of the emotions our fashions will evoke on April 19th at "RAZZMATAZZ - 75 YEARS OF FASHION IN BOULDER!"

MESSAGES

University Women's Club

May 1994

the University of Colorado at Boulder

Notes From the President:

In a few weeks the University Women's Club will have completed its 75th Anniversary year. It has been a unique year-long celebration. I feel I have met my objective this year of emphasizing the varied activities and projects our women's group has to offer, while at the same time highlighting the many individual projects and careers in which our members are involved. I think these two items together-- our UWC interests and our individual interests-- are what makes us a strong and vital organization in the University community. I salute all of the members who this year have shown support and dedication to the UWC. Many of you have donated your time, efforts, and talents beyond expectations and have always approached your volunteer positions in a very professional manner. I also am grateful to all the members who have come to our events; having great attendance makes the planning worthwhile.

In the first half of this year our Membership Tea, 75th Anniversary Ball and Music Program were each attended by over one hundred guests. Our Lecture/Luncheon Series, "In Celebration of the University Women's Club", highlighted the varied interests of our members. The attendance each week was excellent, and in fact exceeded fifty guests. Our most recent lecturer in March was Lillian Kennedy, who gave us a lecture and demonstration of her talents as a Landscape Painter; we not only learned and observed the choices an artist needs to make while painting, but we were also entertained by a fine sense of humor. Thank you Lillian, and thank you again to our other lecturers this year, Marilee deGoede, Susanne Gerson, and Julie Johnson.

By the time this newsletter arrives in the mail, we will have completed "RAZZMATAZZ", 75 Years of Fashion in Boulder". Co-Chairwomen Edith Dell'Apa and Eloise Pelton, an experienced team, and their committee have done a JAZZY job of producing RAZZMATAZZ. There will be no other production like this Fashion Show. TRUST ME! A round of applause to all of you.

Because of our hard work and dedication to the UWC we have been able to contribute to the CU College of Music's Lyric Theatre Scholarship Fund; we have also donated a scholarship to a female student who is returning to the CU Boulder campus to complete her degree. The UWC Student Loan Fund policy has been updated and the amount of the loans has been increased. This fund offers short term, interest free loans to students with emergency needs. Details of these three important activities of our organization can be found elsewhere in this newsletter.

Our Interest Groups and Projects have been helpful, informative, and fun, as usual. Thank you to the many members who have been responsible for keeping them on track. The newest Interest Group, the Garden Club chaired by Toni Smokler, has been a big hit. Thanks Toni for starting this group. The UWC Yearbook was a very successful project this year. Thanks to Chairwoman and Editor Beverly Irons and Co-editor Laura King and their committee for putting together a fascinating history of our club.

I encourage all of you to attend the Honor's Tea at the President's House on May 3, 1994 from 3PM to 5PM. At this Tea we will be honoring three women who have, in an outstanding way, enhanced the quality of life for students on the CU Boulder campus. Thanks to the Honor's Tea Chairwoman, Karen Diamond, who did an excellent job of organizing this event.

Also, at this Tea I will have the pleasure to present the President's Award for Member-of-the-Year to Eloise Janssen Pelton. It is Eloise who has brought the UWC to the threshold of the twenty-first century with her innovative ideas and expert skills. This award is not just from the President, but from her many supporters in our organization. Congratulations Eloise!

As this is our last newsletter of this season, I would like to wish the incoming President, Karen Diamond, best wishes and good luck. To all of you I say a heartfelt THANK YOU. It has been an eventful year in the history of the University Women's Club. Our 75th Anniversary Year.

Thanks for the memories,

Rhoda Nozik

FASHION SHOW NOTES

by

Edith Dell'Apa & Eloise Pelton

Our 37th annual Spring Luncheon and Fashion Show April 19th had a special charge this year: to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the University Women's Club. Thus, we approached it with a give-it-all-we-got attitude, and we were joined all the way by a committee of talented people.

First came the script, from the mind and pen of Joan Knaub, UWC president 1972-73, who also wrote for our last year's show. This was built upon by Patricia (Patti) McFerran, a new member this year, who was then called on to play a major role in planning, becoming the stage director and co-narrator! Patti worked closely with the Boulder Museum of History to tell our story of the evolution of fashion from the '20s to today, arranging fittings for models wearing vintage clothes, choosing appropriate props for the show, and orchestrating the behind-the-scenes activity. Finally she acted as narrator with Boulder attorney, Lane Earnest -- two very busy people responding from their demanding schedules in the community to participate in our event.

Producing a show of this kind is a year-long task that involves many hardworking people and we pay tribute to them here. OUR THANKS TO:

PRESIDENT RHODA NOZIK who was at our beck and call wherever needed.
ANN HAYES for our most attractive invitations and programs AND LILLIAN KENNEDY who joined Ann to do the great RAZZMATAZZ banner for the UMC stage.

MARY LITTMAN, Visual Coordinator, for the gorgeous tables and the lounge and stage decorations;

KAREN DIAMOND who joined Mary to plan the delicious menu;

MARILEE deGOEDE, in charge of wine reception refreshments;

GERRY WALTERS AND UMC FOOD SERVICES for their cooperation and efforts;

J.C. ANCELL, PAUL KEATS AND ALL UMC STAFF who chose as their motto: "let's make this the best show ever";

BRENDA GEERS who scoured the city, tracking down props;

CLAUDINE GARBY, NANCY ROST, in charge of models backstage;

NANWEI SU, Mailing Chair who also supervised labeling invitations and all members who helped with this;

MARCIA ELWOOD who updated the mailing list of some 1800 people and produced the labels;

JoANN CRANDALL, publicity;

JULIE JOHNSON, Messages;

ROSEMARY McBRIDE and Telephone Tree Committee members;

ALICE DOYLE for again accepting the challenge of handling reservations and seating of guests AND wear; also:

GINNY ROSS, UWC member and president of the Museum's Board of Directors, in a Museum gown, as their representative;
MAME IRWIN, in charge of parking
TONI SMOKLER, Yearbook sales;
DONORS TO SCHOLARSHIP FUND (at time of writing): Karen Diamond, Libby Lipstreu, J.L. McDowell, Laila Njastag, Wayne Scott, Helen Wasley;
PROFESSOR EMERITUS WAYNE SCOTT, accompanist, who forfeited his fee to donate to our Scholarship Fund;
PROFESSOR WILLIE HILL, College of Music, who found time from teaching and other commitments to help provide the music, as well as model;

UWC STUDENT LOAN FUND

The loan fund policy was re-evaluated this year by a committee of interested members. Two UWC members, Barbara Margolis and Janet Nuzum, who have been involved with this fund for the past fifteen years have agreed to continue in their current positions. Student applications are screened by Barbara Margolis in the Multi-cultural Center for Counseling and Community Development. Janet Nuzum writes the checks and manages the account as a service to the club.

The UWC appreciates their continued interest and involvement in this fund. Following is the revised official written policy for the loan fund and the names of the members of the committee. Thank you all very much for the time and effort given to this project.

University Women's Club Student Loan Fund

The University Women's Club Student Loan Fund was originally established in the early nineteen thirties. Today it is maintained by the club and applications are accepted by Barbara Margolis in the Academic Affairs Office or through the Multi Cultural Office Center for Counseling and Community Development. Interest free loans of up to $300 may be made to Boulder Campus students. Loans are for use in emergencies and must be repaid by the end of the semester in which they were granted.

CU SCHOOL OF MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP DONATION

Following is a copy of a letter received in recognition of our recent contribution to the CU Lyric Theatre Scholarship Fund. Again, thank you to Edith Dell'Apa for chairing the UWC Music Program.

Dear Ms. Nozik and the University Women's Club,

Thank you for your recent contribution of $300.00 to the Lyric Theatre Scholarship Fund. We are very pleased to have received this gift. Contributions such as yours are so essential to the health and growth of the Lyric Theatre Program.

Past Recipients of these funds have benefited greatly from patron donations. Many are now actively pursuing professional careers. These provided funds help in their development in many ways.

Again, thank you for your contribution.

Sincerely,

Dennis Jackson, Director, Lyric Theatre Program

UWC Scholarship Fund

The UWC Scholarship Fund was established in 1982. The money is to be used to encourage women who have interrupted their education to complete their degrees. The scholarship is funded by individual donations and funds raised at our annual Fashion Show. The name of the recipient is officially announced at the spring fashion show. We thank Caryl Kassoy and her committee for the conscientious effort put into this choice.

TRI- BOARD MEETING

The annual Tri-Board meeting will be held on May 3, 1994 in the President's Boardroom of the Heritage Center, Old Main Building, CU Campus. The meeting will begin at 11 AM. UWC members attending this meeting include the outgoing Executive Board, the incoming 1994-1995 Board and the 1995-1996 Board-elect. Members may bring their own brown bag lunch, providing the contents will not stain the carpets! The meeting will conclude with the inauguration of our incoming President, Karen Diamond.

President's Award Member of the Year

To Eloise Janssen Pelton for extraordinary service to the University Women's Club.

Since joining the UWC five years ago, Eloise has inspired us with her unique creativity. She has been President, 1992-1993, and Chairwoman of two fashion shows. Her ideas, words and actions have re-invigorated our organization. Eloise's contributions have been a significant factor in the success of the club's activities and the satisfaction derived by so many.
