

University Women's Club

The University Women's Club of the University of Colorado Boulder was founded in 1919 to promote friendship among members and to provide service to the University and the Boulder community. These goals continue to this day. Since 1982, the UWC has awarded scholarships to nontraditional students as part of our service commitment. More than 24 Interest Groups provide opportunities for activity and friendship. Club membership is open to women who are affiliated with or are friends of the University.

More information about the University Women's Club can be found on the Club's website at <http://boulderuwc.org>.

Scholarship is at the core of the Club's values. Since 1982 the UWC has provided more than $363,126 in scholarships to 143 nontraditional students. Last year we were able to distribute $30,000. Applications are due mid-February. Awardees are chosen and subsequently recognized at the April Scholarship Luncheon.

The Margaret Willard Award is presented annually by the UWC to one exceptional woman. The women who have received the award demonstrate outstanding work in their field of endeavor, enhance the quality of life for women on the Boulder campus and/or in the Boulder community, are exceptional role models, and bring honor to all women and to the University/Boulder community through their accomplishments.

Membership benefits include:

Interest Groups are small clubs within our large UWC organization. Each is headed by a Chairperson or by Co-Chairpersons. The groups meet on a regular basis. Most meet monthly and welcome new members. A few are filled and closed.

To find out about a group, visit our website <http://boulderuwc.org> and click on “activities – interest groups.” You can read descriptions and contact the chairpersons. Other information is available monthly in MESSAGES. If you plan to attend a meeting, be sure to comply if a response is requested.

There may be more than one group in a category due to skill level, time of day, or some other factor.
