

University Women's Club

The University Women's Club of the University of Colorado Boulder was founded in 1919 to promote friendship among members and provide service to the University and the Boulder community. These goals continue to this day. Since 1982, the UWC has awarded scholarships to nontraditional students as part of our service commitment. More than twenty Interest Groups provide opportunities for activity and friendship.

More information about the University Women's Club can be found on the Club's website at <http://boulderuwc.org>.

Scholarship is at the core of the Club's values. Since 1982, the UWC has provided more than $363,126 in scholarships to 143 nontraditional students. Last year we were able to distribute $30,000. Applications are due mid-February. Awardees are chosen and subsequently recognized at the April Scholarship Luncheon.

The Margaret Willard Award is presented annually by the UWC to one exceptional woman. The women who have received the award demonstrate outstanding work in their field of endeavor and enhance the quality of life for women on campus and in the community. They are exceptional role models and bring honor to women through their accomplishments.

UWC membership benefits include:

Interest Groups

Interest Groups are small clubs within UWC that enable members to share interests, hobbies, and passions with like-minded women. The groups meet on a regular basis and most meet monthly. Most groups welcome new members although a few groups are at capacity. Each group is headed by a Chairperson or Co-Chairpersons.

To learn about the groups, visit our website <http://boulderuwc.org> and click on "Activities-Interest Groups." Contact the chairperson(s) if you're interested in joining a group or want to attend a meeting. Be sure to comply if a response is requested. Information can also be found in our monthly newsletter MESSAGES.

There may be more than one group in a category due to participant skill level, time of day the groups meet, and other factors.
